And time stood still for a moment,
My heart skipped a beat.”

“

“Your laughter echoes,
Through the empty rooms of my heart,
A bittersweet song.”

“The phone call came,
And my world came crashing down,
A father's love lost.”

In another haiku, You explores the healing power of time:

“Time slowly heals,
The wounds of loss still linger,
But hope remains.”

The Human Condition

In addition to his poems on love and loss, You also explores the broader human condition in his haiku. He writes about the joys and sorrows of life, the search for meaning, and the human capacity for both good and evil. In the following haiku, You describes the beauty of the natural world:

“A mountain stream,
Cascading over rocks,
Nature's symphony.”

In another haiku, You explores the darker side of human nature:

Innocent lives are lost,

Darkness descends.”
