

Japan On Foot: A 1,200-Mile Walk Through the Heart of the Country

In Japan On Foot, Mary King recounts her incredible journey walking 1,200 miles across Japan, from the southern island of Kyushu to the northern island of Hokkaido. Along the way, she encounters a diverse cast of characters, learns about Japanese culture, and experiences the beauty of the country's landscape.

King's journey is both physically and emotionally challenging. She walks through mountains, forests, and rice paddies, and she encounters a variety of weather conditions. She also struggles with loneliness and self-doubt.

But through it all, she is sustained by the kindness of the people she meets and the beauty of the country she is walking through.
