The BTI 2024, the latest edition of the index, offers a comprehensive analysis of governance indicators, country profiles, and expert evaluations. It examines the transformative capacity of countries in steering fundamental changes in their political and economic systems, promoting sustainable development, and ensuring the well-being of their citizens.

Key Findings of the BTI 2024

The BTI 2024 reveals a complex and multifaceted picture of governance performance worldwide. While some countries have made significant progress in strengthening their institutions and enhancing democratic practices, others have experienced setbacks or stagnation.

- Overall Governance: The index shows that the average global governance score remains at a moderate level of 4.33 out of 10, indicating a need for continued efforts to improve governance practices.
- Political Transformation: While many countries have made strides in democratization and political participation, concerns remain about the erosion of civil liberties, the weakening of the rule of law, and the rise of authoritarian tendencies in some regions.
- Economic Transformation: The index highlights the importance of economic diversification, innovation, and investment in education and infrastructure for fostering sustainable economic growth and reducing inequality.
- Governance Indicators: The BTI 2024 assesses countries based on 12 governance indicators, including the rule of law, political participation, civil society, media freedom, and corruption control. The results provide a detailed overview of areas where countries excel or need improvement.

Country Profiles and Expert Perspectives

In addition to the overall rankings, the BTI 2024 features in-depth country profiles that provide tailored assessments of governance performance in each of the 141 countries covered. These profiles offer insights into historical trends, political dynamics, and current challenges facing each country.

The index also includes expert analyses from a global network of scholars, practitioners, and thought leaders. These experts contribute their perspectives on key governance issues, providing valuable context and interpretation of the data.

Transforming Governance for a Better Future

The Transformation Index BTI 2024 is an essential resource for anyone interested in understanding and improving governance practices worldwide. It provides a wealth of information and analysis that can inform policy discussions, academic research, and civil society engagement.

By highlighting areas of success and challenges, the BTI 2024 serves as a catalyst for promoting good governance and supporting countries in their efforts to transform their political and economic systems.

The Bertelsmann Stiftung remains committed to supporting the global transformation towards more democratic, prosperous, and sustainable societies. The BTI 2024 is a key element of this commitment, providing a valuable tool for assessing progress and shaping future governance reforms.
